1st Prayer (ch13)

As I lived my day today, I found that I struggled with tiredness. So I went to the gym. It was an adventure because I ended up exercising outside. I learned that things happen in a way that I don't plan, and that as the prayer says, I need to believe in God. Believing in God is different from knowledge - because Hebrews 11 says that Faith is confidence in the unseen. When we cannot see, we have faith. When I planned to go to the gym but ended up exercising outside, it was faith. We need to increase our faith because everyday we are going to face uncertain challenges all the time. We need to trust God that no matter what happens, good things will result in the end. I trust in you Lord, and trust is like faith. Trust is knowing that he has the best interests in mind. And so we can say as the prayer says, "Lord, accomplish your will." Let my whole life be faith in God. I trust in you Lord. I trust in you Lord. It's good to repeat things during prayer. As I live my life, I find that sometimes praying in tongues or in words that do not have meaning is helpful in getting my heart right with God. Praying with words is too hard and sometimes my heart isn't in it.

2nd Prayer (ch14)

We are always not trusting God. If we trusted God, we would do everything right. There are times when we trust God and the holy Spirit is in us. But many times, we are fighting in our own strength and trying our own ways and navigating with our own mechanisms. I find this in my daily life. I try this and that, and I go there and there, and I pray for this and that, but things don't work out the way that I plan or desire. I end up doing God's will because God does his will in me all the time. My unbelief is because God doesn't give me faith. So I beg God to give me the faith that I need to succeed and do his will. God could heal every disease and bring me into heaven immediately, but God's will is to test my heart and see what is good or bad. He doesn't want me to be perfect and God - he wants to give me a hip joint brokenness.

Prayer 3 (ch15)

The chapter for this day talked a lot about forgiveness, anger, meekness, mercy, and to forgive your enemies even when it may be hard because that is the only way God will forgive us. I know this is possibly one of the hardest parts of the Bible. We want to fight and defend ourselves, but the Bible is teaching us to lose. I looked up what meekness means, and it confirmed what my pastor told me - a trained horse is called meek in the Greek times. I believe that I am meek, and that meekness is when strength is controlled and mastered. I believe I need to forgive others more, but I can't do it on my own strength - I need more love from others. Some people say, "Just muster up the strength to do the law!" But I think we need love from each other to accomplish the law. The prayer talks about a life in love. It reminds me of the verse, walk in love - I believe it is Ephesians 5 - as Christ did as a sweet sacrifice perfume. This is what I wish to do.~

Prayer 4 (Ch16)

United prayer is the topic of this prayer. I actually contacted a chaplain friend of mine from Guam, and we exchanged friendly messages. He is praying for me, and I hope to pray for him. It is a blessed thing this fellowship, this camaraderie, and this journey that is not solo, but rather together with all the saints. There are times, when we are forlorn and struggling, but the mercies are new every morning. Sometimes, I wonder, are other people suffering a lot? And the answer is yes and no. There is no answer that is too hard or too easy. This prayer is out of control because we are working on creating an algorithm that generates answers that heals our land. We create answers that replicates the love of God by praying in unison. When we pray in unison, our algorithm generates data that produces rules that generate results.

Prayer 5 (ch 17)

The prayer says that God will avenge the people of God - as in, he will repay them with goodness. He will give them what they need. When they pray, God will listen. God will help those who need help and give to those who need things. God is always listening. As I live my life, and pray to God, I can see that the Holy Spirit is groaning with words unspeakable, and that every need of mine is known to God. Sometimes I can ask, “Did I pray correctly?” And the answer is, “The Holy Spirit is praying on my behalf perfectly regardless of me.” I can trust God. I cannot trust myself all the time, but I can trust God. This is why God is my rock and foundation. He is my sure foundation. He upholds me with his righteous right hand. I am finite and I waver, but God is unmovable and I can trust him. When I doubt my finances, when I am worried I’ll get hurt emotionally, I can trust God. God will never hurt me. God has my best interests in mind. If God is for us, who can be against us?

Prayer 6 (ch 18)

The prayer says Three-One and Thrice Holy. This is a phrase I have never heard of before, but of course I know it is referring to the Trinity. It is so important to know the Trinity. God the father isn’t just the only God that we need to think of. The Holy Spirit gives gifts, visions, dreams, and powers. The Son gives the human understanding of the gospel. The Father gives the control and sovereignty over all things. We pray to the Three in One. And Murray says, "O most glorious God." What an apt phrase. God is so glorious - he is most glorious. And we say "O" in a way of saying, behold the great God! And after he says this, he says he bows with fear and trembling, lest he sin against him. This is so important because sin always kills. Yes our sins are forgiven if we repent, but if we do not repent, that sin will kill us.
