1st Prayer (ch19)

I believe the prayer is quoting Philippians when it says “You crowned him with glory and honour.” I love this verse. It shows the humanness and humility of Christ. But it even shows that this humility and meekness overcomes the world and becomes the greatest in the world. Often times in my life, and in the life of everyone, we fear the world as Christians. Satan has power in this world and the world defeats the Christians in terms of wealth and power sometimes. Christians are weak and humble and serving, and the enemy takes control and beats and takes. But the Bible is showing that the humility of Christ overcomes the world. This truth makes me want to be more humble and enjoy the weaknesses that I have. Paul says he boasts in his weaknesses, in the insults he receives, and the trials he faces.

The prayer says they are so little ready to accept their calling. I find this true because we are always seeking for things that are not our calling. Like jobs or opportunities or lives or paths that are not the way of God or for our calling.

2nd Prayer (ch20)

This chapter talked greatly of prayer of granting Jesus giving us power to do greater works than him. This is a wonderful prayer, and I believe that God is pleased with it. I wish to also do greater works than Jesus, and I believe that is possible because Jesus’ power will be in me. The fact that I can do such amazing things “pass my comprehension.” The chapter contained so much insight - it is one of my favorites.

The prayer says to purify and sanctify my heart - yes, I wish that I can be pure and that I would be free from immorality. It is a fine line whether certain things are sins or not. For example lust. God created sexuality, so some of the sexual tensions and arousals may not be sin, but actually beautiful God-made things. I am always trying to figure this out in my life.

Prayer 3 (ch. 21)

The overall gist of the prayer this time is praying for the Father's glory and living for his glory alone. I worship you Lord, and your glory is worth living for more than any simple or tangible or small pleasures. CS Lewis says, "We are too easily satisfied." What he means by this is that we are satisfied with sinful small pleasures when God's glory and the pleasures that God wants to give us are immense! I worship you Lord, once again, and I praise and adore your glory and your fantastic wonder! Your glory is so great that I am so in awe and love you and am filled with the Spirit to do the will of you. Lord, keep me in this state of awe and wonder and love for you and your glory. Have me pray just for your will and not for anything else. Lord thank you for this amazing experience of being able to worship you. Always have me pray for your glory this way and prevent me from being sidetracked or being so puny in my thinking.

Prayer 4 (ch22)

God's giving is holy. Also, he is willing to give. It is a joy to imagine and know that God is a good God who wants to give good things to us. We are just like babies, sheep, or children, who just keep our mouths open and hope for God to give good things to us. If we are so vulnerable, and so gullible, and such children, wouldn't God take care of us and have special love for us? When we get hurt, when we go the wrong way, when we are in difficult circumstances, it is easy to know that God is with us and knows all our circumstances. We can trust him and know that he knows what we need. The prayer and the topic of this chapter is ask

God and abide in him and he will give whatever you ask. Is it not true that he knows what we need even if we do not explicitly ask? As I said before, when we are in difficult circumstances, he knows exactly what we need, and he is providing the best solution every time. We can trust in him.

Prayer 5 (ch 23)

One of the themes of the prayers this week is that we can ask and he will give. But this particular chapter has a little bit more on the Word of God. How do we abide in Christ? By abiding in his word and reading his word, meditating on it, and following it, and applying it. Do the word. If you do the will of the father, the Father will do what you say. It's a simple principle, but it's amazing that the Father's will and actions will be in conjunction and congruence with our will and actions and sayings if we abide in him. It's like God is following me. God is my leader and I serve him. But God serves me too, which is why he got down and washed my feet and died on the Cross for me.

Prayer 6 (ch 24)

The prayer was not very significant in my mind. However, the chapter was more significant. It is interesting how the chapter began talking about people in authority and the law because I recently had a dream about a person in high power who was watching over me in the city. I feel that the spiritual realm is very real and that it is very immediate in my life these days. I can feel miracles and see them all the time. The main theme of the chapter at the beginning, is that obedience and faith go hand in hand. To have faith, is to obey. The one who obeys has faith. This is clearly shown in the book of James. It's a tricky truth, but I think to simplify it and to remove heresy, we can say, "Just make sure you have faith, and everything else will follow."
