

NT5218: Elements of Greek Test

1. Which of the following letters is the eighth letter in the Greek alphabet?

α
ξ θ
η

2. Which of the following letters is the nineteenth letter in Greek alphabet?

τ
φ
χ
γ

3. Which of the following is the thirteenth letter in the Greek alphabet?

ζ π
ν
θ

4. Which of the following is the fifth letter in the Greek alphabet?

β μ
υ
ε

5. Which of the following letters is not a Greek vowel?

η
ο
λ
ι

6. Which of the following words contains a smooth breathing?

λέγω
αἵρέω
στρατηγός
ἀπογράφω

7. Which of the following words contains a rough breathing?

άρπαγμός
πέμπω
ἀποστέλλω
βραβεύω

8. Which of the following words contains a circumflex accent?

γυνῶν
μορφή
ἀνατέλλω
ἄπτομαι

9. Which of the following words contains an acute accent?

τῆς
οὗτος
τέλος
τοῦ

10. Which of the following Greek letters makes the sound that “p” makes in English?

ρ
π
φ
ψ

11. Which of the following Greek letters makes the sound that “l” makes in English?

δ
λ
μ
κ

12. Which of the following English verbs is in the first person?

is
am
trusts
does

13. Which of the following English nouns is singular?

horses
dog
tortoises
quadrupeds

14. One frequently places a Greek noun in the nominative case to indicate that the noun in question is:

its sentence's direct object
its sentence's indirect object
its sentence's subject
the first in a relative clause

15. One frequently places a Greek noun in the accusative case to indicate that the noun in question is:

its sentence's direct object
its sentence's indirect object
its sentence's subject
the first in a relative clause

16. One frequently places a Greek noun in the dative case to indicate that the noun in question is:

its sentence's direct object
its sentence's indirect object
its sentence's subject
the first in a relative clause

17. Which of the following English verbs is in the present tense?

was
gone
has
am

18. One uses the Greek imperfect tense, among other things, to indicate:

continuous or habitual action in the future continuous or habitual action in the past action of an indefinite duration action that will be completed before some point in the future

19. One uses the Greek perfect tense to indicate:

- continuous action in the present
- action that occurred before another action
- action that occurred after another action
- completed action with continuing results

20. One uses the Greek aorist tense only to refer to action:

- in the present
- in the future
- in the past
- none of the above

21. The grammatical subject of a verb in the active voice is always:

- the object of the action described by the verb
- the subject of the action described by the verb
- both of the above
- neither of the above

22. The grammatical subject of a verb in the passive voice is always:

- the object of the action described by the verb
- the subject of the action described by the verb
- both of the above
- neither of the above

23. In Koine Greek, the grammatical subject of a verb in the middle voice is usually:

- specially concerned in the action described by the verb
- utterly indifferent to the action described by the verb
- the actual object of the action described by the verb
- none of the above

24. One typically uses the indicative mood to:

- express commands
- refer to what might be the case
- both of the above
- neither of the above

25. One typically uses the subjunctive mood to:

- express commands
- refer to what might be the case
- both of the above
- neither of the above

26. One typically uses the imperative mood to:

- express commands
- refer to what might be the case
- both of the above
- neither of the above