A. Introduction and Learning Outcomes Discussion (Student Interaction Required):
5% Module 1

Please introduce yourself by providing your name, degree program, and some insights about you as a person. Discuss briefly what you desire to learn from this course. This is to be posted in Canvas by the end of the first week of class. Comment is required on the postings of another student by the end of the second week.

This discussion requires not only your post for you but also student interaction through a post to another student, if possible, for a total of 5 points (4 points for personal post). The comments to another student may simply be a direct response to the other student as an interactive thread discussion (1 point). However, if you are the only student in this course, the entire points revert to the student discussion. The Professor of Record will allow comments until the end of the second week of the course.

B. Community Crisis Resources Discussion:
10% Module 3

Each student will compile a list of at least five community assistance resources, which could be used to assist someone in resolving crises. The student will provide the name of the resource and means of contacting at least five of them. The student will contact at least two of the resources to explore whether they are user friendly for services. Discuss whether the student would use the two resources or not and why to aid someone in need of services. This discussion will be posted in Canvas by the third week of the course.

C. Personal Views Discussion:
10% Module 5

Each student will discuss at least three key insights gained from the text by Howard Stone. Comments on other students is allowed. This discussion posting is due by the fifth week of the course.

D. Final Project Paper Topic Discussion:
5% Module 5

Each student will post the crisis situation topic they wish to select for the final project paper and why you consider it to meet the level of being a crisis. The Professor of Record will respond with approval if acceptable or provide additional guidance to consider in reworking the selection for approval.

E. Textbook Synopsis (Floyd):20%*Module 8

Write a synopsis paper (typed/word processed, double spaced, two pages) giving evidence of comprehension of the book and demonstrating constructive critical interaction with the text and its concepts. The synopsis for the Floyd text, Crisis Counseling: A Guide for Pastors and Professionals, should include the following: a) A brief description of the book's theme and basic subject matter (Do not simply recite the Table of Contents), b) An analysis of the book's strengths and weaknesses, and c) A discussion of the book's potential for ministry enhancement in your field of study or ministry. This paper will be uploaded into Canvas by the eighth week of the course.

Write the synopsis in Word. Copy and paste it into the Discussion. Do not upload the paper. Post this synopsis discussion in Canvas by the eighth week of the course.

E. Final Project Paper:50%*Module 10

Write a final project paper (typed/word processed, double spaced, 12-15 pages) on a personally selected crisis situation. Analyze and discuss how you would apply Howard Stone's A-B-C Model of crisis intervention to the selected crisis situation. This paper is to be uploaded to Canvas by the end of the course.

Grading Policies

1. Each student has the ten-week term time period to complete all course requirements. It is the student's responsibility to contact the instructor if the student is unable to complete the course requirements within the ten-week period.
2. Dr. Tille or the Professor of Record, grades at a ratio of 1 percentage point per five format and style errors to a maximum deduction of 15% on a given assignment. The remaining 85% is the total possible percentage for content on a given assignment. This results in a grading format of 85% content and 15% format and style to equal 100% for an assignment.

3. Late Submission Policy: If the student will be late beyond the designated submission time noted in the syllabus, the student must communicate with Dr. Tille or the PoR to request any possible additional time for submission of the assignment. This is done in CANVAS E-MAIL. This is by exception and should not become a norm. It is up to the Dr. Tille or the PoR to approve the late work in advance. (In the event of a Canvas malfunction, use jtille@faithiu.edu to communicate regarding coursework.)

If late work is submitted without prior coordination with the Dr. Tille or the PoR, the following grade reductions will occur:

All times are Pacific Time –

If work is submitted by Saturday at 11:59 p.m., 100% full credit may be obtained.

On Sunday: Maximum of 95%

On Monday: Maximum of 90%

On Tuesday: Maximum of 85%

On Wednesday: Maximum of 80%

On Thursday: Maximum of 75%

On Friday: Maximum of 70%

Once the work is beyond 11:59 p.m. on the Friday following the due date, it will receive a zero, unless Dr. Tille or the PoR has provided a written response to the student's written request to extend due to extenuating circumstances. Extenuating circumstances are serious situations that impact the student's ability to complete the work in a timely manner. This is determined by Dr. Tille or the PoR.

Course Extension Policy: The FIU & FS Course Extension Policy will be to allow only work from Week 9 and Week 10 to be considered for grading. After 11:59 p.m. on the Friday after the closing of a quarter, all work will receive a zero. Only under very rare circumstances might a grade of incomplete be issued due to extremely severe extenuating circumstances that have been approved by Dr. Tille or the PoR.

End of Course Evaluation

Completing the End of Course Evaluation is a required element in each course. Students need to complete the evaluation in Populi prior to their grades being visible at the end of each quarter. Once the End of Course Evaluation has been completed and your professor has finalized the course, your grade will be visible within Populi. The evaluation is available during week 8.
